They ate a steak for dinner, rare, with mashed potatoes and flageolets and a salad and the girl asked if they might drink Tavel. "It is a gre'at wine for people that are in love," she said. She had always looked, he thought, exactly her age which was now twenty-one. He had been very proud of her for that. But tonight she did not look it. The lines of her cheekbones showed clear as he had never seen them before and she smiled and her face was heartbreaking. "Dave, you don't mind if we've gone to the devil, do you?" "No, girl," he said. "Don't call me girl." "Where I'm holding you you are a girl/" he said. He held her tight around her breasts and he opened and closed his fingers feeling her and the hard erect freshness between his fingers. "They're just my dowry," she said., "The new is my surprise. Feel. No leave them. They'll be there. Feel my cheeks and the back of my neck. it feels so wonderful and good and clean and new. Please love me David the way I am. Please understand and love me." He had shut his eyes. and he 'could feel the long ligJ-tt weight of her on him and her breasts pressing against him and her lips on his. He lay there and felt som'ething and then her hand holding him and searching lower and he helped with his hands and then lay back in the dark and did not think at all and only felt the weight and the strangeness inside and she said, "Now you can't tell who is who can you?"
